Hands Across America

THE ENDLESS CHAIN of people helping people winds through Brighton Sunday afternoon. Several hundred thousand participants in Missouri and Illinois completed the coast-to-coast chain of hand holders which focused attention on the hungry and homeless in the U.S. and raised millions of dollars to aid in their plight. Some local residents participated in the event in Brighton, which is located six miles north of Godfrey.

Aldermen defeat liquor ordinance

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The cap remains on the city's package liquor licenses.

An ordinance that would have eliminated the limit on package liquor licenses was defeated 11-3 by the City Council on Tuesday.

The ordinance was introduced by 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, ordinance committee chairman.

"To get this on the floor, I move we suspend the rules and place this ordinance on final passage," he said.

He later voted against the motion.

"My main thought on it is it has been a custom for these establishments not to have a liquor license," Whitmer said.

"If we give the supermarkets a monopoly on liquor, it is going to put the package liquor stores out of business," said 1st Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish.

"I think it's the beholding of our council to protect the small businessmen."

MEMBERS VOTING for the motion were 4th Ward Alderman Tom Hewlett, 4th Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak and 3rd Ward Alderman Brett Hanke.

Hanke tried to get the aldermen to reconsider the ordinance at last week's City Council meeting.

However, he withdrew his motion after discussing its wording with City Attorney Mark Goldenberg.

Before voting, aldermen again heard from ministers, church members and business representatives.

"We have enough liquor in this town already," said the Rev. Earl Lovejoy. "We don't need more liquor, we need less liquor."

"To me it's wrong to have liquor in the grocery stores," said the Rev. Artie Rivers. "I regret taking my children into the stores and being exposed to liquor."

"The minors know where they can get it," said Mark Maynard. "It's around and they can go other places to get it."

"I think drinking in the home is very fashionable," said Warren Follansbee of Schnucks Markets.

"and I am just as God-fearing as anyone here."

"Customers tell me they buy their liquor in other communities because the price is too high here," said Dan Byrd, manager of the Granite City Schnucks store.

HIS STORE would make an additional $400,000 a year in revenue with the sale of liquor, he said.

"Out of 11 stores in the Metro East, 10 have liquor licenses," said Richard Hamilton, of the Kroger Co. "As far as we're concerned, it's not a moral issue. In our opinion it's an issue of free enterprise."

With the defeat of the ordinance, the limit of package liquor licenses in the city will stay at 15.

GRANITE CITY — A million-dollar loan program has been created by five Granite City financial institutions to aid in the downtown development program. The Downtown Redevelopment Loan Program will make money available to merchants and property owners within the development areas, it was announced Tuesday at City Hall.

Lenders participating in the program are Central Bank, First Granite City National Bank, First Granite City Savings and Loan, Madison County Federal Savings and Loan, and State Loan and Savings.

MAYOR VON DEE CRUSE, Director of Economic Development Alan Ortbals and representatives of the five participating financial institutions announced the program's creation.

Up to $10,000 at 7 percent interest will be available to bring building facades and storefronts into compliance with the design standards of the development plan, Ortbals said. Repayment of the loan will be over a two-to-five-year period, depending on the amount of the loan.

"This is designed really for the exterior of the buildings to make them more presentable," said First Bank Chairman Mel Wilmsmeyer. "We want to make them as attractive as possible."

Though the loan program is designed for the exterior renovation of the buildings, other money will be available for interior renovation, said Paul Sodko, president of Madison County Federal.

"THERE'S MORE MONEY being put up than this million," he said.

"I'm glad to see this," Cruse said. "It shows our local financial people are willing to invest in the area."

Accreditation recommendations not met by District 9's hirings

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Recent administrative hirings by the District 9 school board do not comply with recommendations made by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools.

A 34-member NCA visitation committee conducted a three-day inspection of Granite City High School in March 1985 and made specific recommendations on improving the school's educational setting.

NCA committees conduct visitations every three to seven years. In a 106-PAGE REPORT, evaluators assessed the effectiveness of school programs in meeting educational objectives the school established for itself.

It concluded with a summary of commendations, areas of concern, and recommendations. The report commended the faculty at the high school for its dedication, the principal for effective leadership, and central administration for a spirit of cooperation observed between it and high school personnel.

The report indicated that "the new superintendent is providing effective leadership."

PRIMARY AMONG areas of concern was the lack of building administrators. Three administrators supervise approximately 3,000 students and 145 teachers, according to the NCA document.

The NCA recommended two new administrators be placed in the high school.

The report also indicated more guidance counselors are needed and class sizes should be reduced. To comply with accreditation requirements, the high school should have a ratio of 450 students

"They must meet membership requirements on an annual basis."

—John Kemp
NCA director

per guidance counselor. Currently, the school has a 650-to-one ratio.

ALSO OF CONCERN to the NCA review team was a lack of building cleanliness at the aged high school facility, built in 1920.

NCA inspectors recommended hiring two additional assistant principals and a redefinition of job and supervisory functions.

Also recommended was the hiring of three additional guidance counselors and additional clerical staff.

"They're on the low side," said NCA director John Kemp. "If you have a school with 3,000 kids who never get in trouble, then you don't need additional staff. Chances are they need to hire a few more counselors just to meet minimal requirements."

KEMP SAID FAILURE to meet a

25-to-1 student to professional ratio and the guidance ratio in schools was a violation of accreditation requirements.

"Schools are not bound to implement visitation recommendations," Kemp said. "They must meet membership requirements on an annual basis."

Otherwise, he said, they risk losing accreditation.

The report indicated certified staffing positions should be filled from outside the district whenever opportunities become available.

RECENT HIRINGS have come entirely from within the school district. Of three administrative positions recently filled by District 9, only one (the new assistant principal) directly complies with NCA recommendations. The recently appointed director of secondary education will also count toward the suggested 25-1 ratio.

A recently approved agreement between Belleville Area College and District 9 will also provide a much-needed counselor at the high school. A recently hired secretary in charge of attendance will augment the clerical staff.

Though the school's industrial arts program received strong commendations for the overall quality of programs and faculty competence, the school board voted in January to create the position of vocational education director.

NCA officials indicate the district's ratio of one guidance

Venice streets get help

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — "We walked the town last week and the curbs are unbelievable all around town," Mayor Tyrone Echols said at Tuesday night's meeting of the City Council.

"We walked it all and made a survey of the city's streets," the mayor said.

AS A RESULT of the walking tour, the city's first major street improvement program in many years may shortly get underway.

An estimated price tag of $176,600, including $18,900 in engineering fees, is projected for the citywide improvement program.

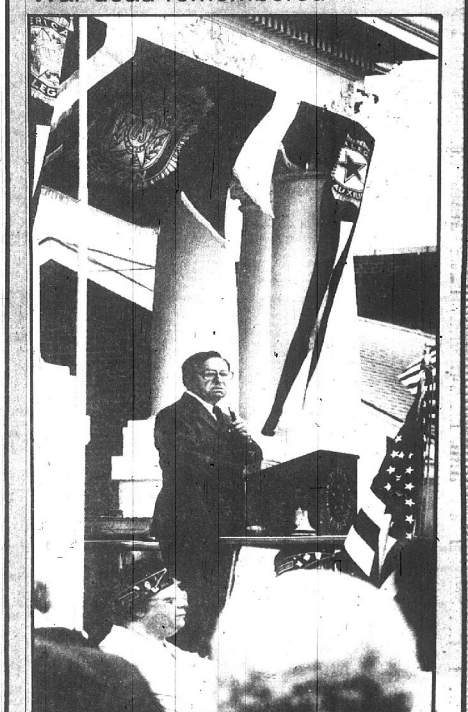

Making the inspection survey with the mayor were Edward L.

Juneau of the consulting engineering firm of Juneau Associates, who serves as city engineer consultant, and 3rd Ward Alderman John Ervin, chairman of the council's Streets and Alleys Committee.

"We have approximately $105,000 in motor fuel tax funds,"

Quad-City news

Rallies here, across nation on preserving jobs in U.S.

Americans will gather on June 21 at rallies — including Madison at 11:45 a.m. — in industrial communities across the country to demonstrate their support to "Save American Industry and Jobs."

The community rallies will be held during the day, with locations, schedules and events determined by local organizers and steering committees comprised of mayors, clergy, small business owners, bankers, policemen, educators and others adversely affected by erosion of America's basic industries.

At 1 p.m. Illinois time, a 90-minute live telecast will be beamed via satellite to as many as 100 rally sites from a main stage event in Washington, D.C. Participating will be leaders from industrial corporations, international unions and Congress as well as jobless workers and concerned celebrities.

A spokesman said, "Save American Industry and Jobs Day will be dramatic, entertaining and hard hitting. Not unlike an evening TV news show, the teleconference will move from Washington to remote locations such as a steel mill, an auto plant or a textile mill and a state capital."

"These reports, and the personalities presenting them, will help frame social and economic issues that need to be raised with elected public leaders if we are to save basic industries. At the local rallies, federal and state elected officials will not only view the 90-minute program but will also be asked to address the assembled community."

The United Steelworkers of America, working with major steel companies, has committed to organize and fund 65 rally sites divided among the various states. Another 35 sites are being organized, with support sought from other international unions and industries.

The teleconference will be transmitted on published satellite channels to permit any rally or television station to tune into the show. A national vendor will provide each rally site with a complete teleconference equipment package, including a portable receiving dish, TV monitors and large-screen video projectors.

USWA President Lynn Williams will serve as the event moderator, joined by AFL-CIO Secretary-Treasurer Tom Donahue and other international union presidents, plus corporate leaders, celebrities and political leaders who will serve as event co-chairmen.

The local rally will be held at the Madison Armory Hall, 1711 Kennedy Drive, at 11:45 a.m. on June 21.

Humane Society started

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

Ledy Vankavage of Collinsville and Sherry Harper of Arlington Heights, Granite City, were elected president and vice president, respectively, of the newly formed Madison County Humane Society.

The 13-member board of directors held the election at its May 19 inaugural meeting at the First Federal Savings and Loan in Edwardsville.

Also elected to two-year terms of office were: Lynn Wiechles of Highland, treasurer; Ruth Vaughan, Collinsville, corresponding secretary; and Mickey Henson of Granite City, membership secretary.

The non-profit group of volunteers initially was formed from the Madison County Coalition to investigate conditions and practices at the Madison County Animal Control Pound, Harper said.

Members are hoping to get a formal agreement with county animal control officials, whereby an adoption program can be established at the pound, she said.

THE COUNTY ANIMAL holding facility is located on Marine Road in Edwardsville.

To further inform the public about its objectives, the new humane society will participate in the annual Shriners' Circus Parade, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 2, in Granite City, Harper said.

Members and other animal lovers are invited to walk their pets along the parade route as part of the society's contingent.

Persons interested may contact Harper at 345-8759 for details.

Further information about the society's goals or membership may be secured by calling Vankavage at 345-8108, or by writing to Madison County Humane Society, P.O. Box 889, Collinsville, 62234.

Red Cross swimming scheduled

The Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct an instructional swimming program for the physically handicapped June 16 through July 11.

The overall purpose of the program is to teach the physically handicapped to swim or to swim better, and to use this medium to provide the participants with a freedom and mobility they are otherwise denied. The program enhances their physical well-being and their outlook, a Red Cross spokesman said.

The handicapped swim program is available free of charge to any qualifying individual in the Quad City Area. The program will be conducted at a private swimming facility in Granite City. Registration is limited and is offered on a first-come, first-served basis.

Recruiting is also under way for individuals who wish to assist the handicapped.

"Each year, we have volunteers from all walks — high school and college students, grandmothers and retirees," commented Joanne Higgins, program director.

Minimum age for volunteers is 15; there is no maximum age. In addition to the staff, qualified lifeguards, also volunteers, will be in constant attendance. Training for volunteers will be held June 12-14.

Those wishing to participate in the program as volunteers or swimming students may contact the local Red Cross office at 452-7184.

WATER FOR HEADACHE

Drinking water can eliminate a headache in 9 out of 10 youngsters, according to Dr. Ray LaForest, pediatrician at Scarborough Hospital. He attributes 90% of the headaches in school children to dehydration. "A youngster can lose as much as a quart of water during an active gym period." In his studies on 200 children, most headaches disappeared after drinking water. Both children and adults can benefit from the natural cure for headaches — pure water.

Park District budget Transfers complete '86 year-end report

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Park District commissioners made two inter-fund transfers May 21 and closed the books on the 1985-86 fiscal year.

More than $125,000 was transferred from the district's general corporate account into the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund and the Recreational Program and Facilities account.

A $19,011 transfer to the IMRF account was necessary to fulfill the district's annual obligation for employee pensions.

The IMRF operates much like Social Security for non-municipal employees, said President George Sykes.

"We pay it every year," he said. The district also transferred $105,200 to the recreation fund to cover park operating expenses.

The transfer brought the district's balance in that account to $235,311. The Park District made $227,753 in recreation fund expenditures during the fiscal year. It carries a $547 balance into the 1986-87 year.

Sykes said the corporate account was begun four years ago to cover expenses incurred during normal operation of the district. Bylaws prohibit transfer of funds from any of the park's four other accounts.

Sykes said the district budgets one year in advance of tax receipts. In order to keep pace with unforeseen price increases, the park needed to adopt a flexible account.

As an example, Sykes pointed to deficits in the IMRF and tort liability funds this year.

"Prices are rising faster than we anticipated," Sykes said. The district finished this year with a $36,417 deficit in its liability fund and a $6,433 deficit in IMRF.

The district had begun the fiscal year with a more than $30,000 debt in the two funds carried over from the 1984-85 fiscal year.

The Park District begins the 1986-87 year with $178,182 cash on hand and a total of $386,674 remaining in various accounts.

Hudson to talk at Old Six Mile meeting June 2

Jim Hudson, owner of one of the long-established downtown businesses, J.D. Hudson Fine Jewelers, 19th and State streets, will address the Old Six Mile Historical Society at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 2.

The meeting will convene at the Bethel Evangelical Free Church, 2450 Stratford Lane.

Hudson will speak on "Early Years in the Downtown Business Area."

The public is invited to attend the monthly meeting, Georgia Engelke, president, said.

President sends letter of sympathy

Following a letter from a 13-year-old girl, a former Granite City woman recently received a note of encouragement from President Ronald Reagan.

The note came in response to a letter from Mitchell Boswell, granddaughter of Marguerite Scheafer, now of Apt. 605, 233 N. Val Vista Drive, Mesa, Ariz. Scheafer has been ill and the girl expressed concern to the president.

"I was sorry to learn about your health problems, but from personal experience I know that God gives us the strength we need when things seem most difficult," the president wrote to Scheafer.

"Sometimes it's hard to understand why we must endure hardships, and the answers never come easily. Perhaps the best way to carry on is to draw on the love and compassion of your family and friends who are pulling for you. Nancy and I are keeping you in our thoughts and prayers as well. God bless you."

Trips to Queeny Park slated

The Granite City Park District will be sponsoring two trips to Queeny Park in St. Louis County for musical programs in the air-conditioned comfort of Greenfield Recreation Center.

The first concert will be on Tuesday, July 1, and will feature the incomparable Patti Page. She will sing all her popular favorites to the accompaniment of the St. Louis Symphony Pops Orchestra conducted by Richard Hayman. This is the concert to kick off the 1986 season.

The second program planned by the Park District will be on Saturday, July 12. This show will feature Doc Severinsen, conductor and trumpeter of the NBC Orchestra and the "Tonight Show" and should be a fun-filled evening for the whole family.

The cost of the tickets and bus transportation will be $10.50 per person and must be paid at the time of reservation. The bus will leave the Wilson Park Ice Rink at 6:30 p.m.

Reservations for the July 1 concert will go on sale at the Wilson Park Office on Friday, May 30, at 9 a.m. Each person will be able to purchase only two tickets and must present proof of residence. Non-residents will be placed on a waiting list. Call the Wilson Park Office at 877-3659 for more information.

No liquor license lid? No way

Rocking from the position of too few to the point of allowing too many package liquor licenses won't do.

Something should be done about the lid on package liquor licenses in order to provide equity among grocery stores, but eliminating the lid as proposed at Tuesday's City Council meeting by 3rd Ward Alderman Brett Hanke would have meant going overboard into a sea of liquor.

Giving liquor licenses should be done in moderation.

The mayor was right to give National a license because they were first to request it of him and there is no sound legal reason they should have been denied. But the mayor can now do nothing to stop the unfair business situation the move has created because he has no more licenses to give. Something should be done to equalize the situation, and only the City Council can do it, barring a courtroom battle.

They can balance the inequity by raising the limit on licenses to accommodate the other major food stores, or perhaps they can create a new license class based on grocery sales volume.

Hanke was heading in the right direction by desiring to eliminate the liquor license lid. But his move was too zealous.

On the other hand, Hanke's attempt beats the non-existent response of some aldermen. Excusing those council members, such as 3rd Ward Alderman Paul Fisk, who want the liquor lid because of a real concern for the moral climate in this city, there are other aldermen with a less palatable position. Those aldermen, rather than showing concern for the grocery stores, are trying to gain political mileage out of the situation. They think the affair makes the mayor look bad and that's the way they want it. They care more about political gamesmanship than about the potential hurt of this city's major grocery stores.

National got its license four weeks ago. That's four weeks of selling a product competitors do not have. The blame for the situation rests partly with the mayor for doing what he thinks is the right thing, but mostly with the council for doing the wrong thing—doing nothing to help the other grocery stores.

Though we disagree, we will not criticize those aldermen who oppose lifting the lid on moral grounds. But we find appalling those aldermen who show more interest in trying to hurt the mayor than in trying to help the city.

Recall effort won't be easy task

Recalling the Granite City School Board won't be easy, but some persons seem willing to take on the task as evidenced by the many calls received by this office.

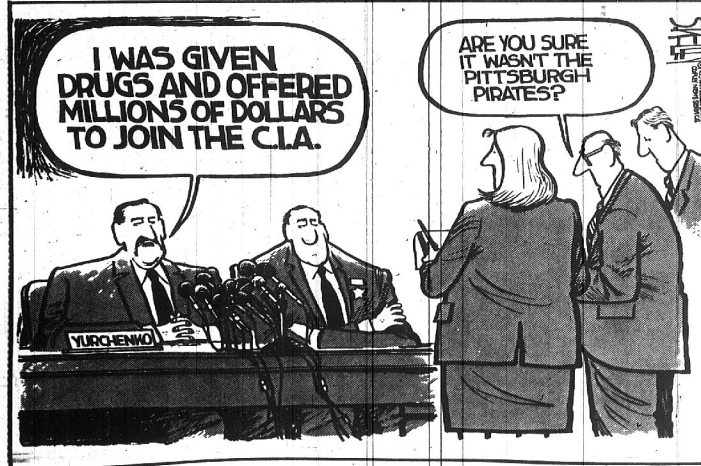

Petitioning to recall school board members, or virtually any political officeholder in Illinois, is not provided for in this state's laws. This does not mean petitioning would be a worthless effort; only a difficult one.

It will require the dedication of petitioners to first gather names, and then to present those names to the county clerk. From there, perhaps inevitably, the courts will be asked to decide if the public in Illinois will be accorded the right to petition government for a redress of its grievances.

Several other states have recall provisions, among them Wisconsin, Kansas, Colorado, Alaska and California. These states provide a right Illinoisans should have and hopefully will have if the petitioners take their challenge to the highest level.

The petitioners have good reasons for their complaints against the school board and, for the good of the school district, we hope they follow through with their effort.

Readers react

John Long, Granite City

"Yes, I think it would be an excellent idea. If they (board member Alan Crider) want to be a principal, they should go for it the right way instead of behind closed doors. We've got too much of that in this city."

Should the board resign?

In light of the way the Granite City School Board has been conducting its business and because of the controversy surrounding recent hiring practices, should the board resign?

Bob Perigo, Granite City

"Yes, they should be recalled. The school board members should work for the betterment of the schools and should keep the politics out of it."

Bruce Kinworthy, Granite City

"They shouldn't be hiring their friends. They should resign because they're not working towards a better school district. The school board is there to assure a better education for the children, not to give jobs to their friends."

Don't forget Social Security pays its way

To the editor:

In all the Capitol wrangling over budgets, etc., one fact keeps getting lost: Social Security is paying for itself.

Old Age and Survivors' Insurance and Disability Insurance are running a surplus, and estimated $15 billion in the next fiscal year, which will add revenue to meet future commitments.

President Reagan is absolutely correct when he points to Social Security as one program that is not adding a penny to the federal deficit. This program does much more than provide the income support that older persons paid for during their working years.

In fiscal 1985, almost 37 million people received some type of help from Social Security. More than 120 million Americans and their employers contribute to Social Security. Though Medicare needs repair, Social Security runs a surplus and is doing just fine.

Repay heroes by maintaining liberty

To the editor:

Memorial Day was originally known as Decoration Day and was, by custom, first observed in honor of the memory of Southern soldiers who fought in the Civil War.

After hostilities between the Union and Confederate forces had ceased, the widows and friends of the slain Southerners showed their love and gratitude to their fallen heroes by spreading flowers over the soldiers' graves.

The practice was not confined to Confederate graves. These fine women of the South also decorated the graves of the Northern dead. The news of this touching tribute spread across the north as a ray of hope for binding the wounds of the war.

Our own Carbondale lays claim to the honor of having begun the movement that led to the national celebration of Memorial Day because of an all-day observance in 1896 in which General John A. Logan was the principal speaker.

Two years later, when Logan was commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, he issued an order designating May 30 as a day on which all Army posts would commemorate the dead of the Civil War with floral bouquets and wreaths.

This remained the official date until 1971, when the date for its observance became the last Monday in May.

Since this beautiful custom began, many addresses have been made to honor the sacrifices of our fallen heroes. Most of these speeches have not endured—not because of the inadequacy of the speakers, but because of the inadequacy of words.

I have no illusions about how little I might be able to add to the silent testimony of those who gave their lives for our nation. Words are even more difficult this Memorial Day, since we stand silently as a strong and good nation remembering the sacrifice of those who loved their country enough to die for it.

We must try to honor them, though—not just for their sakes, but also for our own. If our words cannot repay the debt we owe these men, then our actions should keep faith with them and the vision and commitment that led them to their sacrifice.

Whatever the war or conflict, the remembrance of those who have sacrificed all is a common thread binding our past with the present and our present with our future.

It gives us a reason and a sense of purpose in living up to the great and glorious history we have inherited, and a sense of mission in seeing that past sacrifices were not made in vain.

Memory is the treasurer of the mind, and to forget past sacrifice, or to idle away the hard-fought liberties we enjoy today, would dishonor those who have gone before.

Our first obligation then—to them and ourselves—is plain. The United States and the freedom for which it stands, the freedom for which they died, must endure and prosper.

Their lives should remind us that freedom is not bought cheaply. Just as those whom we honor were willing to sacrifice, so too must we—in less heroic ways—be willing to give of ourselves.

We must remain, as have past generations, ready and able to defend our shores against forces of oppression. We must maintain a superior system of national defense. Just as importantly, we must maintain a spirit of resolve and readiness to defend ourselves when the need arises.

Yet, it's not just strength or courage that we need, but understanding and a measure of wisdom as well.

We must understand enough about our world to see the value of our place in it as the protector of liberty and beacon of freedom to others. We must be wise enough to know the extent of our power and influence and to exercise them judiciously.

Our understanding must also extend to potential adversaries. We should not strive to speak to them belligerently, but firmly and frankly—never forgetting the codes of morality that have traditionally made us unique as a nation and have been the source of our strengths.

The willingness of some to give their lives so that others might live to appreciate the fruits of their devotion never fails to evoke in us a sense of wonder and mystery.

As we honor their memory, we should pledge that their lives, their sacrifices, their valor shall be justified and remembered as long as this nation lives.

We should pledge to carry out what must have been their wish: that no other generation of young people will ever have to share their experiences and repeat their sacrifice.

U.S. SEN. ALAN DIXON

GC board, staff run excellent schools

To the editor:

Our school board has done an excellent job of running our school district.

There are always people with axes to grind in any business situation, but that is not reason to swing those axes and try to destroy our board.

Our school board is providing good leadership and smooth operation of the entire school system.

Two examples of this are the closing of North High School, which saves taxpayers' money, and keeping our sports and band programs intact while several districts in our state had to severely cut back or cancel their programs.

We have only been able to keep these programs because of the dedication of our school board members. Our administrative, teaching and non-teaching positions are filled with highly educated and skilled people.

I am sure it is the intention of the school board to fill vacancies in the system from its part-time and full-time employees whenever possible.

Our school district has produced many scholars, lawyers, skilled tradesmen, business leaders and good citizens.

This Friday, May 30, the Class of '86 will graduate, and I'm sure that each and every one of our graduates thank God that they were able to get the education our school district provided for them.

Tri-Cities Girl Scouts provide community help

Granite City neighborhood troops of the River Bluff Girl Scouts Council live up to their motto to help others and improve the world around them.

They are involved in helping other people in their communities in many ways. Some of their projects include fingerprinting of school children, collecting books for children in pediatric wards, picking up trash in neighborhoods, working at the Girl Scout Day Camp, visiting the sick in nursing homes and hospitals, and collecting food for the needy.

Last month, 400 Girl Scouts, 350 Boy Scouts and their leaders participated in Stash Trash Day. The Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce Community Betterment Committee coordinated the cleanup project for Venice, Madison, Granite City, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell neighborhoods.

"I'm sure the community is a better place to live because of their efforts," said Mary Brown, the Community Betterment Committee chairman.

"Many of the troops go to nursing homes and hospitals to visit sick people at least a couple times a year," said Maurine Sampson, the field director for the River Bluff Girl Scouts Council.

The council received an honorable mention award this year for volunteer services from the Greater St. Louis United Way for its fingerprinting project. The River Bluff Girl Scout Council is an agency of the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Brown, a Girl Scouts district chairman in 1983, coordinated the fingerprinting project.

The Girl Scouts recruited adult volunteers and the Granite City Police Department trained them to fingerprint the Granite City school students.

Members of Girl Scout Cadet Troop 776 in Granite City are collecting children's books for the pediatric ward at St. Elizabeth's Medical Center.

Troop 776 and Troop 328 members also work at the Girl Scout Day Camp every summer.

They help with planning activities for the week, teach the girls crafts and help with other planned activities. They also operate the Tagalong Unit, a day care service for the children of day camp staff.

"Eleven Granite City troops provided tray favors for patients at St. Elizabeth's Medical Center at Christmas this last year," Sampson said.

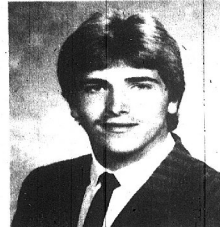

All the Granite City and Madison troops also went to Christmas at area nursing homes and St. Elizabeth's, she said.

Girls bring items for food baskets to be distributed to needy families for the Festival of Giving at Christmas.

Last Christmas, many troops received profiles on families needing assistance through various community service agencies and collected items for those families. Troops also donated food to a special food project.

BAC looking for students to fill gaps in flight industry

GRANITE CITY — Complementing the avionic mechanics and electronics program at Granite City College is the two-year degree in aviation and flight technology offered at Belleville Area College.

BAC is the only community college in Illinois offering the degree, but few know about it, BAC flight instructor Keith Mueller said during a meeting in a classroom at St. Louis Downtown Parks Airport in Cahokia.

"We'd like to get the word out. Since deregulation of the airlines (in 1978), the demand for pilots has increased three-fold," he said.

The demand is so high that commuter jobs are being bypassed and pilots are going straight to major carriers, he said. Two years of flying instruction is enough to quality to be an airline pilot.

"Anyone interested in getting into the BAC program would see excellent opportunities for employment," he said. "And tuition is very reasonable, about $800."

Mueller and other flight instructors throughout the United States are drumming up interest in aviation for another reason: Though demand for pilots is up, fewer pilots are entering the market.

Rus Street, manager of the Scott Air Force Base Aero Club, said that as a tradition, most airline pilots have received training in the U.S. Air Force and the U.S. Navy.

"But with incentive to keep people enlisted and with the end of Vietnam, fewer people are available for the airlines," he said.

Mueller said most people today learn to fly for entertainment. If they made an occupation of it, they would find piloting provides a lucrative income.

Ozark Airlines pilot John Whitney of Belleville, who has been flying carriers for about 20 years, said earnings can escalate to as much as $100,000 per year. He declined to give his own salary.

"But I'm not ashamed of it," he said. "It's in the $100,000 range."

In addition to high earnings, the job brings other benefits, such as discount fares, he said.

He can fly to Hawaii for $50. And for about $30, he can fly to Europe.

"You've got to work all your life; you might as well enjoy it," Whitney said. "Most pilots can't wait to get to work. Flying is fun."

It's relaxing. The only pilot who doesn't enjoy his work is the kamikaze.

Anyone who thinks he or she might be interested in the BAC program can call Mueller at 388-0720.

He will explain enrollment procedure and list the requirements for earning a pilot's license.

"The field is opening up to women," Mueller said. "More and more women are becoming aware of the aviation opportunities available to them."

About seven women are enrolled in the BAC program, he said.

There are health requirements that must be met to receive a license, he added. Vision must be correctible to 20-20 and there can be no physical defects, such as a heart ailment.

Bids to fix office rejected by Chouteau

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

CHOUTEAU — Bids to enlarge and renovate the assessor's office were rejected at the meeting Monday night.

The bids were more than the budgeted amount of money set aside for the project.

Township Supervisor Morris Miles said bid specifications will again be advertised and new bids will be opened at the June 23 meeting. Monies for the project will be from revenue sharing funds.

In other action: Michael Curran, state representative from the 99th district, requested the board of trustees consider including a resolution on the November ballot in conjunction with the seat belt law. He said he thought the voters should have the right to decide if they are in favor of the law and the legislators are interested in the voice of the people.

Though some board members were in favor of giving the voters the choice, Miles said he is not sure if the board has the legal right to include the resolution on the ballot. However, he agreed to talk with County Clerk Evelyn Bowles and to give her answer to the trustees at the next meeting.

A discussion was held on a bill for $21,537 from B & J Asphalt Co. of Godfrey since they were awarded the contract for the low bid of $20,540, for improvements of a segment of Lakeview Drive in the Morrison Road area. The trustees agreed the work was completed and acceptable but did not agree to the increased charges.

"I think we should forward the request for payment to Community Development office where the decision will be made for the increased amount," Miles said.

Betty Sneed, a resident of University Drive, voiced concern about the drainage problem along the side and back of her property. She said some work was done previously to clear the area for a flow of water but Metro-East Sanitary District employees left mounds of dirt that are covered with weeds and now also cover the culverts and stop the flow of water to the main storm water system.

Miles said the township received its first two checks in the amount of $642 for the town fund and $1,352 for the Road and Bridge fund from the tax collections for this year.

Granite City man charged with kidnapping, robbery

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

BLOOMINGTON — A Granite City man has been charged in the May 18 kidnapping and robbery of an elderly Arkansas couple near Bloomington.

George S. Marshall, 22, of the 4200 block of Illinois 162, was charged May 19 with two counts each of aggravated kidnapping and armed robbery in McLean County Circuit Court in Bloomington, said Sgt. Chuck Grooss of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation. Grooss is handling the case.

Marshall was also charged with parole violation. Grooss said. He was on parole for a 1982 residential burglary conviction in Madison County.

GROOSS SAID MARSHALL, armed with a sawed-off shotgun, confronted George Mabees, 64, and his wife Edith, 63, of Mountain Home, Ark., at about 10 a.m. May 18. The couple had stopped at a rest area on Interstate 55 south of Bloomington.

Marshall allegedly got inside Mabees' car with the couple and drove a short distance before robbing them of approximately $300 and abandoning them, Grooss said.

He also allegedly pointed the gun at Mabees, causing Mabees to struggle and the gun to discharge. Marshall returned to the rest area in Mabees' car and fled in his own car, Grooss said.

MABEE ALERTED police, who spotted Marshall's car and chased it until it struck a van in Springfield, 60 miles southwest of Bloomington.

The van was driven by Edward Clay, 50, of Springfield, Grooss said.

Clay's son, Joseph, 12, remained in critical condition Wednesday at St. John's Hospital in Springfield, Grooss said.

Clay and a passenger, Mary Rumble, 39, were in fair condition Wednesday at the Springfield hospital. Clay's wife, Judith, 50, was in good condition, Grooss said.

MARSHALL WAS TAKEN to Memorial Medical Center in Springfield for treatment following the accident. He was taken May 22 to the McLean County Jail in Bloomington where he is being held in lieu of $250,000 bond.

KITCHEN, BATH & HOME INTERIOR IDEAS

Kitchen Islands Are Nice, But What Are They For?

An island can be a very nice design element in any kitchen that has space for it. But it also can be very useful in several ways. It can be a place to put the sink (which would mean extra plumbing expense) or the range (which might mean more ventilation expense).

Or it can provide work space you might need for mixing or for any part of meal preparation. Many kitchens do not really have enough counter space for this activity. Also, what do you do with all those groceries when you come back from the supermarket? You need space to sort them out.

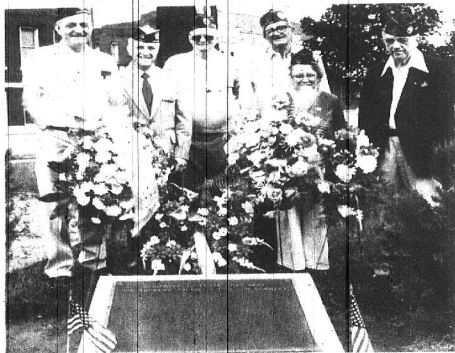

Your kitchen island can be with or without plumbing or wiring, either of which can add to its usefulness. With plumbing and wiring it can be an entertainment center with bar and bar sink, even with a small under-counter refrigerator or ice-maker.

Without that it can provide an area for brunching, which is a very common function. Islands often are used even for informal dining. But for eating activity, remember that you also need a wider top to provide knee space.

So an island can add both form and function to a kitchen. Come in and look at ours any time, and let's discuss it.

Retiring workers recognized

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

A reception honoring Mrs. Edna Hoult and Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, both retiring this week from the Venice School District food services department, will take place from 3 to 4 p.m. today, May 28, in the high school library.

Mrs. Hoult has been with the district for 24 years and has served as cook, matron and custodian. Mrs. Harris is a seven-year district employee.

AT ITS MEETING Thursday night, the Venice School Board approved today's event and also granted permission to hold a second party for the retirees.

Under the auspices of the school district and family members, a reception marking the two women's retirements also will be held from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m. Saturday, May 31, in the school gymnasium.

Board members also accepted the resignation of Darlene Smith, a cook at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center for the past four years, who has taken a job with a St. Louis bank.

THE MERITS of various size tractors were explored at length when VLTFC Director Peter Ponce explained that repairs to the school's present tractor, an older 12 horsepower model, will cost between $900 and $1,000.

"I don't believe that tractor is worth spending $1,000 on for repairs," Ponce said. "I talked it over with Mr. Vickers (Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers) and he agrees."

After reviewing brochures, displaying several models, board members voted to jointly purchase a 16 horsepower Wheelhorse tractor with a 42-inch cutting blade, costing $3,400.

HALF THE COST will be borne by the adult vocational school and a detailed agreement on the warrant will be sought prior to actual purchase.

Plans to use the new machine to maintain the high school athletic field, which is being redesigned, were suggested and a snow-removal attachment may be acquired later, it was stated.

If sufficient money is available, Vickers suggested the district purchase 24 new typing desks.

"It's been a long time since we purchased any desks and the ones we are using were bought about 1948," the superintendent said.

BOARD PRESIDENT Wilbert Glasser spoke about the deterioration of Seventh Street, especially in front of the school driveway. "The water is not draining there and the worst time is in the winter-time with freezing weather. Maybe the city needs to get together with us and take a look at it," Glasser said.

Specific responsibility for maintaining the street and driveway entrance was questioned by Vickers.

He suggested Venice Street Superintendent Tom Scaturro be asked to look at the area and make a decision.

Some area cancer rates high

Madison County white males had a "significantly high" rate of cancer deaths in the 1970s and other area counties had high rates of certain types of cancer, according to a new state study released Friday.

The cancer mortality study analyzed cancer deaths in individual Illinois counties from 1970-79 and was done by University of Illinois researchers for the Illinois Department of Public Health and its Health and Hazardous Substances Registry.

It is the first of a planned series of reports this year on possible relationships between cancer mortality, birth defects, occupational diseases and hazardous substances.

The report released May 23 did not attempt to isolate potential causes of cancer around the state but merely noted areas with higher than expected levels of various types of cancer for white and non-white males and females.

The authors suggested counties with apparent high cancer risks deserve further study.

For all types of cancers in the study, Madison County was among six with significantly high rates for white males, with 2,347 deaths reported for the 1970-79 period.

For non-white males and females, Madison County and the counties of Jersey, Greene, Macoupin and Calhoun had a lower incidence for all types of cancer deaths in the study than the U.S. average.

Non-white males in Madison County had among the highest incidence of deaths from multiple myeloma type cancer.

Madison County also had a "significantly high" rate of cancer deaths for white females with colon cancer and white males with lung cancer and rectal cancer.

Jersey County was one of the counties with the highest incidence of rectal cancer for white females, and also had significantly high deaths for white males from cancer of the colon.

Greene County had among the highest rates of cervical cancer deaths among white females.

Macoupin County had among the highest rates of cancer deaths in 1970-79 for white females with cancer of the uterus and white males with non-Hodgkin's lymphomas.

phomas. Macoupin also had significantly high deaths for white males with Hodgkin's Disease.

Calhoun County had among the highest rates of rectal cancer deaths among white males and significantly high death rates for white males with leukemia, according to the study.

For other types of cancers and sex and race groupings, the area counties' deaths in 1970-79 were not significantly higher than national rates, according to data in the report.

Over a 30-year period, from 1950 to 1979, cancer deaths statewide in Illinois increased 11 percent among white males and 25 percent among non-white males, while declining 8 percent among white females and 12 percent among non-white females, the report said.

It also said non-whites have higher death rates from cancers of the esophagus, stomach, prostate, cervix, uterus and multiple myeloma, while whites have more deaths from leukemia, lymphomas, Hodgkin's Disease and cancers of the breast, ovary and brain.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Sometimes fathers contact this office and inquire about the possibility of reducing their child support obligation. In some cases, these men were not represented by an attorney at the time of the original divorce. They frequently indicate that they merely agreed to a sum of child support without considering what they could afford. Several months later, many fathers in this situation realize they are paying more than other men in similar circumstances. They then inquire about a possible reduction in support.

How does a father know if the amount of child support he agreed to is excessive? Illinois law provides that the Court shall determine the minimum amount of support by using certain guidelines. A father with one child is to pay a minimum of 20% of his net income toward child support. Two children will require a minimum of 25% of the supporting party's net income.

It should be noted, however, that just because a supporting spouse entered into a bad agreement at the time of the divorce does not necessarily mean that he can subsequently have the amount of support reduced. In order for a supporting party to modify child support, he or she must show a substantial change in circumstances. A father who feels he is paying too much support would have to show that he is making less money or his ex-wife is making substantially more. He also could attempt to show that the needs of the child were not as great as they were previously.

Recently a man came to this office one year after he was divorced. He indicated that at the time the marriage was dissolved, he never consulted with his own attorney. His former wife convinced him to agree to child support which was 35% higher than the minimum standards provided by the guidelines. He inquired about the possibility of seeking a reduction in child support.

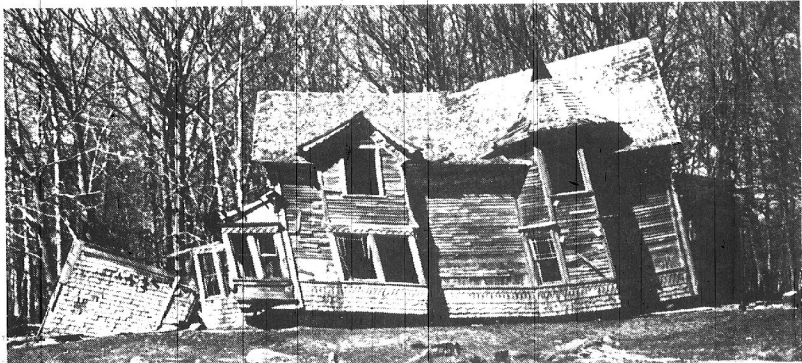

In this particular case, the man was actually making more than he had been at the time of the dissolution of the marriage. His former wife was making about the same amount of money, and the needs of the child had actually increased in the intervening year. In this case, the prospects of the father obtaining a reduction in child support were very remote. This is a case where there had not been a substantial change in circumstances since the dissolution of marriage.

See what happens when you don't get a home-improvement loan?

What this home-owner needs is a demolition loan. This disaster could have been prevented with a home-improvement loan a few years back. (In this case, thirty years back.)

Anyway, there's no better investment than timely home repair and improvement, with a home improvement loan from First Bank or Colonial Bank.

You get a combination of benefits. Your home becomes more valuable. You live more comfortably. And your old arithmetic teacher will write you a nice letter telling you how proud she is that you remember her common-sense lessons.

Architect to plan for nursing home and care facility

The Madison County Board has approved a resolution authorizing selection of an architect to help prepare cost estimates for a proposed combined nursing home and sheltered care facility.

The county board's health institutions, finance and buildings committees will choose the architect, who will help with preliminary design of the facility and the cost estimates.

The county must submit cost estimates with its application for a certificate of need from the Illinois Department of Public Health. The facility has to be certified by the department.

Estimates are also needed to inform voters in case a referendum for general obligation bonds is put on the November ballot.

No limit on architect's fees was mentioned in the resolution. County board members Harold Byers, Highland, and Vasil Efimoff, Granite City, voted against the resolution.

Byers said he thinks there needs to be more public discussion on whether or not the county should be in the nursing home business at all.

He asked the board if it is government's role to provide nursing home care.

Effimoff said later there has not been enough research into alternatives to building a new combined facility. He said one option would be to contract out with private hospitals in the county for care of nursing home patients.

The cost of a new 200-bed facility has been estimated at about $5.6 million.

Bank

Karandeff Sr., who died suddenly January 1985, was chairman of Central Bank and AHB and was named acting president of AHB on May 8.

Other directors, Robert H. Karandeff and Roger A. Higgins, originally were in favor of the merger but spoke against it at Wednesday's meeting of shareholders. R.H. Karandeff, an AHB officer for nine years and president since January 1986, said he felt local control could be best assured if the bank remained autonomous.

The merger was proposed as a way of enabling AHB services to be expanded, including the provision of trust services and access to a network of automated teller facilities.

Another factor was the belief that "competitive pressure will continue to increase as the bank continues toward total deregulation, not only as to interest rates but also with the advent of interstate banking."

Man shot in face at Army Depot

A Cedar Hill, Mo., man drove to the front gate of the St. Louis Area Support Center in Granite City at 5:30 a.m. Sunday and reported he had been shot in the face by a robber.

Todd Eaker wasn't certain where it occurred, but he told Granite City police that he and a friend from High Ridge, Mo., were looking for Pop's Saloon, a Saugat tavern, at the time.

Eaker was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and was admitted for treatment of a gunshot wound to the left side of his face.

After he pulled his truck to the side of Illinois 3 to ask directions from a man, Eaker said, the man displayed a weapon and said he wanted the wallets of Eaker and his friend, Kevin Foster.

Eaker threw his wallet out of the truck and the robber shot him in the face, he told police.

His friend ran to the Brooklyn Police Station to get help, an Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation spokesman said. DCI is now investigating the incident.

After being shot, Eaker drove away and continued driving until reaching the Army center gate.

It was later determined the shooting had occurred on Illinois 3 near Roky's night club in Brooklyn. Eaker was unable to give a description of his assailant other than that he was black.

Graff gets scholarship

Daniel Andrew Graff, a 1986 graduate of Granite City High School, will receive a $750 scholarship from the Shelter Insurance Foundation.

The award is sponsored and partially funded by local Shelter agent Cheryl Crawford.

Graff may apply the award toward tuition, fees, room and board for any course of study leading to an academic degree at any accredited college or university.

He was chosen on the basis of scholastic achievement, educational goals, citizenship, moral character, and participation and leadership in school and community activities.

The selection was made by a committee of school officials and community leaders.

The $750 will be paid directly to the school the winner selects. Graff received a certificate from Crawford on behalf of the Shelter Foundation, a not-for-profit corporation for charitable, educational and scientific purposes.

WhaleyWhere do the parents go?

The Granite City girls softball team ended its season last Saturday morning with a 5-0 loss to Civic Memorial (Bethalto) in the regional semifinal at Jerseyville.

Although they only had an 11-16 mark for 1986, the Warriors were probably a little better than that record would indicate. They lost five games by one run. They were 4-4 in the Southwestern Conference, but three of their losses were by a total of five runs, so a bit here or there would have put them over .500.

But seeing the season end the way it did was a little sad. While a large group of Eagle fans cheered CM on to the regional title game, there were a half dozen Warrior supporters in attendance.

OK, Jerseyville is a lot farther for Granite City fans than for Bethalto fans. But it wasn't the absence of fans that was as perplexing as the absence of a certain type of fan. That would be the parents of the players.

Two of the Granite City citizens on hand were Mr. and Mrs. Mack Johnson. And even they had a rooting interest in the Eagles.

Their niece, Denise Madison, is the CM catcher.

But Mrs. Johnson was taken aback by the apparent disinterest of the players' parents. There were a couple of parents at the game, and there have been good groups at some of the home games.

"But this is the regional," Mrs. Johnson said. "You would think more parents than this would want to come see their daughters play."

I'm sure at least some of the parents had legitimate reasons for not being there. Work schedules and taking care of other children are things that can't be avoided. Still, with 16 girls on the roster, there were two parents there. It's hard to believe no more than two could set aside a couple of hours on a Saturday morning, especially for their kids. Maybe all the rest had legitimate conflicts, but it's doubtful.

Mrs. Johnson thought the time for the home games (4 p.m.) was a reason for the low attendance, but all schools start their sporting events at 4 p.m. in the spring. Agreed, it is not the best time for parents who work or who have to pick up younger children at school or whatever.

But again, a trip to Jerseyville last Saturday morning to see their children play seems like a worthy cause.

"What do you think that does for the confidence of these girls to see all the Bethalto people here and see hardly anybody rooting for them?" Mrs. Johnson said.

And believe me, you can use all the confidence you can get when Roanna Brazier is standing 46 feet from you with a softball in her left hand.

Brazier's father, by the way, keeps score for the Eagles and can tell you any of his daughter's rather amazing pitching statistics without having to look them up when Roanna Brazier is standing 46 feet from you with a softball in her left hand.

You might think it's easy to get excited about going to games when your daughter is the most dominant pitcher in the area. That's true, but how many kids will ever reach Brazier's level? They all need support, especially from their parents.

Personally, I enjoy the softball games very much. I'm at the point now where I might go if there is one near home, even if I don't have to cover it.

All of the girls sports could use a little more support in Granite City. I can sense a growing interest in the girls soccer program. That's not surprising. It doesn't take a stranger in Granite City long to find out how the locals feel about soccer. If the Illinois High School Association takes girls soccer under its wing and institutes a state tournament in the near future, don't be too surprised if the Lady Warriors win more than one state title in the first couple of years.

OK, I know, there was also a big baseball game at Collinsville Saturday. I'm sure there were more fans at that game than in Jerseyville. Collinsville is closer to home and boys baseball is still the more popular sport for the average fan. There's nothing wrong with that. The baseball team needs support and they get it, even though it never seems to be quite enough against East St. Louis.

That explains where a large number of Granite City people were. Meanwhile, a hardworking GRANITE CITY — Three of the hottest baseball teams around will converge on Granite City this weekend for this area's Illinois High School Association Class AA Sectional.

The semifinal games will be Saturday at Varsity Field, with the Belleville East Lancers facing the Edwardsville Tigers in the first game at 10 a.m. The Belleville Althoff Crusaders take on the Carbondale Terriers in the second game, scheduled to begin at approximately 1 p.m.

The Crusaders, 22-7, upended No. 1 seed East St. Louis 11-1 in Monday's final of the Collinsville Regional. The Crusaders are the heaviest-hitting team in the area, sporting a .373 batting average and 38 home runs. Leading the hit parade is center fielder Joe Bauer, with a cool .469 batting average, 4 home runs and 31 RBIs. But he has plenty of support from second baseman Mike Lueg (.400, 13 RBIs), right fielder Matt Frazier (.425, 4 HRs, 23 RBIs) and left fielder Bob Becker, who leads the area in home runs with 8. Tom Myatt also is among the area leaders in RBIs with 33.

"All the home runs have surprised me, to tell you the truth," said Althoff coach Al Foppe. "It wasn't something we thought about a lot early in the season. But our players really worked on their hitting. We went through two or three protective screens. They were really bashing the ball in batting practice."

Just as promising for the Crusaders is a young pitching staff, led by Mike Vogt (6-1, 2.06 ERA). Foppe said either Vogt or sophomore Chris Parciak (3-1) would start Saturday's game against Carbondale. Both are right-handers. Righthander Jim Monken, who had a no-hitter against Mascoutah earlier this year, is out with an injury.

The Crusaders rocked East St. Louis starter Jeff Guiley for nine runs in the first two innings Monday to wrap up the game. They had 13 hits, five for extra bases, including three homers.

"I was surprised to a certain extent," Foppe said of the wide margin of victory. "You've got to respect everybody now. You can't expect to win games easily at this time of year. But I'm very happy with our play the last two weeks."

GC Class AA Sectional

Saturday, May 31
Game 1: Belleville East (22-7) vs. Edwardsville (22-13), 10 a.m.
Game 2: Belleville Althoff (22-7) vs. Carbondale (18-13), 1 p.m.

Monday, June 2
Game 3: Winner Game 1 vs. Winner Game 2, 4 p.m.

"It's just going to be a dogfight this weekend. We'll have to play good baseball, because anybody is capable of winning this late in the year."

They'll be up against a strappy Carbondale team (18-13), which upset No. 1 seed Harrisburg Tuesday in the finals of the Carbondale Regional.

In Saturday's first game, the red-hot Belleville East Lancers (27-7) will try to eliminate another revived team from Edwardsville. The Lancers have won 14 in a row, including an 4-0 rout of Belleville West in the Belleville West Regional final Tuesday. Rich Lockwood, 11-2, hurled the shutout for the Lancers. But Sam Lance, 9-1, is expected to get the call against the Tigers.

The Lancers, who finished in a three-way tie for the Southwestern Conference lead with East St. Louis and Granite City with an 8-2 mark, also feature a heavy-hitting lineup. Kevin Hagarty has 31 RBIs, while Brian Gibson and Jim Sinovic have chipped in with 29 and 28, respectively.

Belleville East also exhibits speed on the bases. Tim Meeshing has 32 stolen bases, Todd Blomberg has 23, and Bob Spory and Gibson have 17 each.

"We try to be aggressive on the bases, and at the same time we don't take any aggressiveness away from our hitters," said Lancer coach Larry Patton.

The Lancers' 14-game roll includes a 6-6 win against Granite City May 12, when they scored four times after two were out in the seventh, which helped them get a share of the SWC title.

"We feel like things are going pretty well for us now," Patton said. "Guys are picking each other up."

The Tigers, meanwhile, have rebounded from the mid-season controversy, when 14 players were suspended for four games each for disciplinary reasons. They lost three of those four games, and coach Tom Pile said it took his team a couple of weeks to rebound.

"We had three of our good hitters go into a slump right after that," Pile said of his 22-13 team. "But we had a nice team meeting talking about slumps and we worked out of it."

Edwardsville won a thrilling game from Jerseyville in the finals of the Alton Regional Tuesday. Trailing 3-1 in the sixth, they got a home run from Bob Sirtak (8 HR, 34 RBI, .463).

In the seventh, Tom Fayolat, a .380 hitter with 22 steals, singled and stole second. He moved over on a bunt and scored the tying run on a sacrifice fly by Eric Kolesa (.407, 28 RBIs).

With two outs, Sirtak stepped up and golfed a 4-2 slider which hit the top of the fence and fell over the winning run.

"It was dramatic," said Pile, in an understatement.

The Tigers met Belleville East earlier this season, with the Lancers winning 8-3.

"We beat them 8-3 last year and they ended up going to state," Pile said. "I told (Belleville East coach) Larry Patton that since he won 8-3 this year, maybe he would go."

"We're playing really well now. Our defense has really been sharp. Dan Long is the best defensive catcher in the area. It will be interesting to see how we do against East."

Lethander Jeff Burns, 8-1, will start Saturday for the Tigers. But Pile has two other starters he can count on, Dan Rolens and Cecil Bell.

"East beat us, but they haven't faced our No. 1 pitcher yet," Pile said. "When you play 35 games, you can't use your top pitchers all the time. Lanes did pretty well against us last time, but we think we can win it."

The winners of Saturday's games will face off Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. at Varsity Field for the right to advance to Springfield and the Class AA state finals June 5-6.

Warriors provided many highs during spring

GRANITE CITY — The road to the state baseball tournament passes through Varsity Field, but the Warriors will not be participating.

Their season officially ended Saturday with a heartbreaking 3-2 loss to East St. Louis in the semifinals of the Collinsville Regional. The Flyers were blasted 11-1 by second-seeded Belleville Althoff in Monday's championship game.

The Collinsville Regional was the toughest in the area. The top four teams had won a combined total of 68 games entering the tournament.

Althoff was the survivor.

"I can't remember the last time a regional was this tough," said East St. Louis coach Art May.

May's Flyers found out firsthand, losing for a second year in a row in the title game. Last year, Cahokia knocked out East St. Louis.

Granite City, too, was an eyewitness. The Warriors, the tournament's fourth seed, lost their fourth one-run game to the Flyers over the past two years. Darris Company's hit in the seventh scored two runs and beat Granite City.

The loss was only Granite City's second in its final 10 games of the season. The Warriors ended at 23-15.

"This was a good ball club and we had a good season," said Granite City coach Bob Stegemiier after the East St. Louis game.

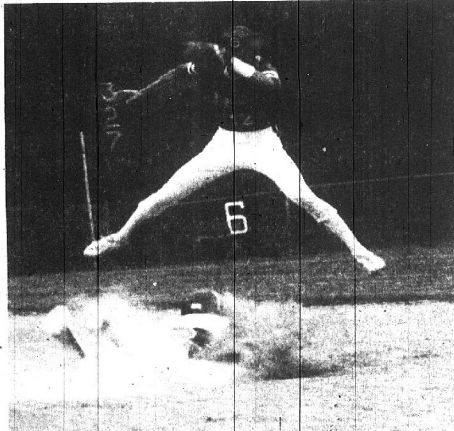

Granite City posted its second straight 20-win season and shared the Southwestern Conference championship with East St. Louis and Belleville East. It was the first time since 1967 a Granite City team won all or part of the SWC.

Stegemiier also won his 200th game as coach when the Warriors beat Carbondale 6-5 May 17.

There were some other highlights:

• Matt Roe, a senior, batted .410 (34 for 83) for the season. He is one of only 18 Granite City players to achieve that. The Warrior to hit over .400 last was Shane Cole in 1985.

• Tim Hogan, a junior center fielder, swiped 37 bases to set a new single season record. The old mark was 25 set in 1980 by North's Bob Batey. Hogan's total was second only to Lincoln's Keith Clayborn who had 40 steals.

• Fred Becker, a senior, also broke Batey's stolen base mark. He stole 27 bases while playing with a sore back.

• Scott LeVault, a junior, finished the season at 6-0 and proved to be one of the top pitchers on the team as the season progressed. LeVault also had an ERA of 2.29.

• Senior Errie Gray ended at 6-1. His ERA was 2.21. He only allowed 13 runs all season.

• Four of the Warriors' starting eight players were juniors: Todd Hinterser, Tim Hogan, Jamie Hogan and Todd Adamitis. All four hit over .300 during the season. Hinterser led the team in RBIs. Jamie Hogan was tops in hits.

• Overall, Granite City had seven of its regular starting eight players hit over .300 during the season.

• Roe and Chomko both ended the season with a slugging percentage over .600.

• Both Hinterser and Chomko both turned in a second consecutive season of hitting better than .300.

• Granite City set a new team record for stolen bases, 152. The old mark was 117 set a year ago.

• The Warriors will lose 100 seniors to graduation, but return four regulars and only starting pitcher next season.

GCC Stars sign four kickers

GRANITE CITY — Three players from nearby Cahokia and another player from St. Louis have been signed to play soccer for Granite City Campus. The players include Wes

NEW STARS: Wes Borden and Pat Phillips of Cahokia are two of the four new soccer recruits signed by Granite City Campus. Stars coach Larry Petri is at center.

Borden, Pat Phillips and Matt Muller of Cahokia and Todd Jones from Hazelwood Central.

Stars coach Larry Petri, whose team lost four sophomores, announced the new recruits earlier in the month.

"We are in the process of reaching our goal (of bringing in 12 new faces)," Petri said. "It's just a matter of when these guys want to make a commitment."

Borden was an offensive machine for the Comanches. An All-Area forward, Borden scored 14 goals and 12 assists.

Phillips, who played both fullback and sweeper, scored 6 goals and added 16 assists for Cahokia.

Jones also played fullback in high school. He scored 1 goal and 1 assist. Jones was an all-conference player in the Suburban North and was an honorable mention all-state player in Missouri.

"I feel very comfortable with the position we are in right now," Petri said.

Tryouts for Prairie soccer teams set

Soccer tryouts for the Prairie State games will be conducted Saturday, May 31 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

There will be a $10 registration fee.

Openings are available for men's and women's open (college age and above) and boys and girls scholastic (high school age) teams.

For additional information, call Mike Moore at 234-2901.

Camps:

Openings still for McBride soccer camp

A limited number of openings remain for this summer's sessions of the Pat McBride Soccer Camp. Boys ages 7-14 and high school boys can receive specialized instruction in playing soccer at week-long sessions to be held at Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Mo. Four weekly sessions for boys 7-14 will be held beginning June 8, 15, 22 and July 6. An advanced session for high school boys is set the week of July 13.

This summer marks the 10th season for the camp, directed by St. Louis Steamers coach Pat McBride. The staff includes former pro player Denny Vanninger, as well as Bob Brunette, who has coached the Busch senior men's team to two U.S. Amateur Cup championships. Current players from Major Indoor Soccer League and college teams will also be on hand.

The camp utilizes natural grass fields and a lighted artificial turf stadium. Boys who choose to stay overnight will be lodged in air-conditioned dormitories.

The fee for overnight campers is $150 per session. Commuters pay $125 per session.

Registration forms may be obtained by writing Pat McBride Soccer Camp, 731 Davenport, St. Louis, Mo., 63123, or by calling 314-631-7114.

SIU announces basketball camp in summer

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville head basketball coach Larry Graham has announced the dates for one of the most extensive summer basketball camps in the region. According to Graham, the camps will be aimed at two different targets, individual fundamentals and team concepts at the high school and junior high school level.

The first camp, which will stress fundamentals, is set for June 29-July 3 with openings for resident day campers still available. The second session, scheduled for July 6-11, will feature the high school varsity team concept. Graham will conduct a third session July 20-25 for high school varsity, junior varsity and junior high school team play.

All three sessions are open to resident and day campers between the ages of nine and 18 years old who have not started their senior year of high school.

Cost for the week-long session is set for $160 per resident camper and $100 per day camper. Resident campers will stay in SIUE's Tower Lake Apartments and receive three meals per day, while the registration fee for day campers will also include lunch and dinner each day. All campers will receive a free Larry Graham/SIU basketball t-shirt.

For reservations to any session, or for additional information, contact Larry Graham or Pete Norman, assistant basketball coach, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Edwardsville, Ill., 62026, or call 692-2871.

Auxiliary officers and chairmen feted

Eagles Auxiliary 1126 President Vincine Zerlan recognized all the officers and chairmen who served during the year 1985-86 with a party in the Eagles Home meeting hall. She thanked all the members who made her year as president a success, and presented gifts to past officers and chairmen.

Refreshments were served by Zerlan and her committee at tables decorated with vases of blue and white flowers and streamers.

Helen Lipchik, publicity chairman for the past year, was escorted to the altar by the conductor and was presented a gift by the president.

Natural energy—put it to work for you.

A heat pump uses the sun to cut energy costs.

Natural energy from the sun keeps you warm in the summer—too warm, much of the time. But in winter, it'll leave you cold.

A heat pump uses solar energy to do something the sun could never quite manage—keep you comfortable year round.

In summer, it pumps excess heat out of the house. In the winter, it gathers natural warmth and pumps it indoors to cut heating costs 20% to 40%.

To learn everything under the sun about what a heat pump can do for you, call the Marketing Advisor at your local Illinois Power Customer Service Center.

Swimmers survivors

Two-thirds of drowning victims didn't know how to swim, according to recent national statistics. These figures also show that people drown at home, at work, in connection with motor vehicle accidents and during recreational activities.

The values of being able to swim, known for a long time, can't be too often reiterated. The YMCA, for example, pioneered in swimming instruction almost from its beginning as part of its concern for safety in the water and for better physical fitness. It is still a foremost concern to the YMCA today as it focuses on Learn-To-Swim Week, June 9 to 13.

"Let us 'drownproof' your entire family," the YMCA urges as it continues to extend its programming to include the entire family. Latest YMCA statistics (1985) show that 4,000 people learned to swim every day in the YMCA during that year.

Further statistics from the National Safety Council and National Center for Health Statistics show that 60 percent of drowning victims are under 25 years of age and nearly 33 percent are teenagers 15 to 19. Half the victims are alone at the time of drowning.

In addition to safety, learning to swim opens the door safely to many exciting water sports, such as boating, surfboarding, scuba diving and others.

Methods of teaching swimming have been improved recently by the use of flotation devices and other techniques so that most beginners can learn to swim some distance in five lessons.

In a period of increasing hazards to life, it is foolish not to reduce or eliminate the hazard of drowning by simply learning to swim. Saving your own life or that of another is an immeasurable reward for the effort of learning. Besides it's a pleasure.

Why not contact your YMCA at 876-7200 today about it. Or, stop by the Tri-City Area YMCA to register.

Greene Replaced For 'Shenandoah'

John Cullum, who won a Tony award for his original portrayal of Charlie Anderson in the Broadway production of "Shenandoah," will recreate the role when the Mundy presents "Shenandoah" on August 11 through 17.

Cullum replaces Lorne Greene, who had to cancel his appearance because of an aggravated hip injury that will keep him off his feet for the next six months.

"Shenandoah" is a musical drama that deals with the chronicle of a farmer's family living the Civil War years in the fertile Shenandoah Valley, virtually destroyed by contending armies.

Season tickets, at savings over single admissions, are on sale at the Mundy's season ticket box office in Forest Park. Price range is $26 for a single season in Terrace C, to $216.50 for a single season ticket in boxes. Individual tickets are on sale at all Mundy box office outlets.

records, subpoenaed by the defense.

Under cross-examination by his own attorney, Richard A. Hollis, Locher testified he has had difficulty in obtaining payment for his fees and expenses since current state's attorney Dick Allen of Granite City took office in December 1984.

Locher said he has received no payment for any work performed this year, despite court orders by three judges that he be paid.

He said he has received about $40,000 for his work since 1984 and is owed $13,000 to $14,000 by the county. He said, however, that he has never connected his problems in being paid with any of the defendants.

Attorney S. Russell Meyer of Allon also testified Thursday. He said Locher called him in 1984 and told him he planned to indict two of Meyer's clients if they did not appear before a grand jury the next day and testify truthfully. Meyer said he assumed Locher was threatening to charge them with perjury.

They did not appear and were not indicted, Meyer said. He said the two had appeared before an earlier grand jury investigating pressure on an assistant to obtain more indictments was a ploy to pressure the U.S. attorney's office to take a more aggressive role in the case.

Weber was called to the witness stand by attorneys for the defendants. Their motions to dismiss the charges or replace the special prosecutor were still being weighed.

Keith Jensen, a former Madison County assistant state's attorney, testified Friday he resigned from Weber's staff because Weber had involved himself in the investigation in violation of an understanding with federal authorities, had illegally divulged information obtained in authorized eavesdropping, and had attempted to use the investigation for political purposes.

Weber also had been sharply criticized by the 5th District Appellate Court for his handling of the other Barton prosecution.

Weber said that in March 1994 he became worried about the reluctance of federal authorities to proceed and twice urged Jensen to obtain indictments, in the hope indictments would result in federal action. Weber testified the plan of action had been that the U.S. attorney's office would bring charges.
